OVERVIEW MAP DRØBAK & OSCARSBORG

History

Drøbak, which got its name due to its many steep hills, has a long and exciting coastal cultural history and is one of the best preserved wooden house towns in the Oslofjord area. The trading post was an important export point for lumber from the beginning of the 17th century. Since it was difficult to navigate large sailing ships all the way to Christiania and in the winter, there was often a thick layer of ice in the inner Oslofjord, the skippers chose to load and unload in Drøbak. In the 18th century, Drøbak was in fact the place in Norway with the most registered sailing ships. At the end of the 19th century, Drøbak developed into an important seaside resort with several bathing facilities in Badeparken close to the city center. With its close location to the capital, Drøbak also became a summer place where artists drew inspiration.

Getting here

You can travel to Drøbak by boat, bus, bicycle and car. The Ruter Ferry B21 and B22 go to and from Drøbak every day during the summer season, and on weekends in spring and autumn. The Oscarsborg ferry from Drøbak to Oscarsborg runs all year round from Sundbrygga north of the city center and during the summer season from both Sundbrygga and Sjøtorget in the city center. There is also a regular bus service to and from Drøbak, both from Oslo (500 and 505), Ski (510), Ås (510) and the local bus route (506). By car it takes about 35 minutes from Oslo city center to Drøbak.

Tourist Information

Visit Drøbak & Oscarsborg is the official tourist information center in Frogn municipality, located in the central Drøbak boat harbor, alongside Drøbak Aquarium. Visit us at the Tourist Information for everything from timetables, to local tips and ideas for what you can experience here. The tourist information office also operates BUA, a free lending center for sports, ski and hiking gear.

Welcome to Frogn and we hope you enjoy your visit!

ATTRACTIONS & EXPERIENCES

The Christmas town

It's Christmas all year round in Drøbak! This is where Santa Claus has his official norwegian address and where Christmas mail from all over the world arrives. Tregaardens Christmas House offers a festive atmosphere 365 days a year. This is Norway's only all year-round Christmas house and a must-see attraction. In Drøbak harbor you will also find the Santa Claus traffic sign, right outside the Tourist Information office. If you would like to learn more about Norway's famous Christmas "lutefisk", take a trip to the Lutefisk Museum in Kroketønna, the world's only.

Museums

At Oscarsborg, you'll find the Oscarsborg Museums, which include the Fortress Museum and the Torpedo Battery. You can book a guided tour all year round, and during the summer holidays, tours are offered daily. Oscarsborg Hotel & Resort also offers guided tours on request. There are also fortifications in Drøbak: Seiersten skanse, Veisvingbatteriet and Kopåsbatteriet.

Follo Museum is another exciting museum. This open-air museum located at Seiersten is surrounded by nature on all sides. It offers different activities and guided tours on request. The Norwegian Lutefisk Museum and Drøbak's maritime museum are located in the cozy street of Kroketønna.

ART & CULTURE

Town of Artists

Drøbak has throughout the ages charmed artists, bohemians and writers, including Hans Gude, Oda and Christian Krogh and Knut Hamsun. As an arts center, Drøbak has several galleries. On the website gallerieneidrobak.no you can get more information about current exhibitions and information about the galleries. Drøbak artist Reidar Finsrud has two galleries outside the city centre, at Bilitt and at Torkilstranda. Both exhibit the multi-artist's work, but it is Bilitt that is the foremost exhibition arena of the two. At Bilitt you can also experience "Finsrud City", an impressive miniature world scaled down to 1:87, one of the world's largest miniature cities. Finsrud has also made the bronze sculpture of "The Three Mermaids of Drøbak" in Drøbak boat harbour and «Neptun» at Molo B.

The Norwegian Cartoonist Gallery shows drawings with meaning, expression-based art and is a tribute to the newspaper cartoonist Fredrik Stabel. It also houses a bookshop with art materials as well as an abundant art sales department. Drøbak Art Society curates exhibitions in the historic bathing building at Badeparken, with a stunning fjord view. The Oslofjord Art Center is a pleasant gallery in the center of Drøbak, which shows current contemporary art. They also arrange painting courses and art events for both children and adults. This gallery shares premises with Drøbak Association of professional artists. Gallery Havstad is a colorful gallery shop with fine art, ceramics, glass, jewelry and other gifts and decorative items. Gallery Vera presents a wide selection of quality art and is in an old wooden house in an apple orchard in Elleveien, just before Torkilstranda. May-Britt Kjeserud is another artist who has art sales in the center of Drøbak. In the center of Drøbak, the former Munich-based goldsmith Walter Hensel also has his own workshop called Gullsmed Atelieret, together with his Norwegian partner Marit Falch. Hegn Ceramics Studio has regular ceramics courses. New Era is a gallery and studio for art and crystals. Drøbak Kunstnerkollektiv is a gallery, studio, and gift gallery.
