

ULVSBY HERRGÅRD

Enjoy the good life

For a long time Ulvsby Manor has been a setting for the good life and meetings between people. It was for that reason that in 1649 Queen Christina of Sweden allegedly chose to annex the mansion. It was probably the tranquility of the countryside on the shores of Lake Fryken, in the heart of Värmland, that attracted the queen. Or the good food – the kitchen is still known as one of best in the county, and the menu is based on local produce. Today the Krönsjö family are the owners of Ulvsby Manor. They are renowned for their hospitality, and guests still flock to the Manor from far and near.

- Wood-burning sauna on the shores of Lake Fryken
- Boules pitch
