Tour description

Uranienborg

From 1908 and for 20 years, Roald Amundsen lived in his house Uranienborg at Svartskog. In 1911 Amundsen and his men skied to the South Pole as the first to reach the pole point. In 1928 he disappeared in the arctic and Uranienborg was left full of stories from the life he had lived and the people around him, including the secrets he had tried to keep to himself. Hear the history and explore the secrets with a knowledgeable guide and polar explorer.
